Hi [REDACTED]

First part of qualitative interim – work in progress, no fancy covers. RIE to follow later today just need to check through. As we discussed there is an uncomfortable space where the question looks like being answered but there may be a more prescient question that is not as yet being asked.

[REDACTED] and [REDACTED] have set out the quantitative analyses with modelling, I think a discussion before we press the button on running these as planned would be useful.
